The semi-annual report of the receiver in the case of Albertus F. Wood vs. the A. F. Wood Co. was accepted, and several matters of pleading disposed of by the court.

Judge Joseph P. Tuttle of the su-rier court held a short calendar ses-on in this city Saturday morning, and Incidentally made his first appearance on the bench in Willimartic.

The longest matter brought to his attention was the divorce suit of Ma-belle B. Rouette vs. George M. Rouette. The couple met in Springfield, Mass. in 1890, and were married in Stafford in 1901. At the time they became acquainted, Rouette went under the name of George M. Wheeler, but told his bride-to-be that that was an assumed untre and he married her
